By JOHN MORGANTHALER

MORRIS LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A marathon, 12½ hour hearing ended early today with narrow defeat in the California Legislature for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to repeal the death penalty.

The 87 vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee may have shattered Caryl Chessman's last hope in his 11½ year fight to escape the gas chamber.

Edwin J. Regan, committee chairman, had said before the hearing he expected the Senate to adjourn the special session on capital punishment the day after committee action on the bill it was defeated. He indicated adjournment was expected today.

Introduction of a similar bill in the assembly was not planned and no further legislative action was expected on the death penalty before Chessman's scheduled execution May 2.

It was Brown's reprieve of the convict-author and his calling of a special session on capital punishment that touched off the great debate.

Yet, as if by tacit agreement, not a single witness mentioned the convict-author and his calling of the long, almost subdued hearing by the all-lawyer committee, began at 9 a.m. Wednesday before a jam-packed audience. It ended at 1 a.m. on a dramatic note.

Deputy District Attorney J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles dismissed that Barbara Graham, fourth woman to be executed in California history, confessed her guilt in the last few minutes of her life in 1935.

He said the 32 year old continued on Page Four

Vote to Limit Rights Debate Sure to Fail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today rejected a move to limit debate and thus crush the Southern filibuster against civil rights legislation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate drove today toward a vote on the question of limiting civil rights debate, but even those sponsoring the move conceded they didn't have a chance to win.

By agreement, a vote was to come at 2 p.m. (EST).

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, together with a good many middle-of-the-road senators on the civil rights issue, lined up against restricting debate at this time.

Their opposition and that of Southern senators who filibustered day and night last week against civil rights measure made it certain there would not be the necessary two-thirds vote to shut off debate.

The House, meantime, began debate on its own civil rights bill. There, Southerners announced a decision against trying to delay a vote through parliamentary maneuvering.

House rules make impossible the out-and-out filibustering, through unlimited debate, that can be carried on in the Senate. But a determined opposition can slow and delay the House.

With the Southern commitment against trying to delay the House bill, backers of the measure promised not to try to cut off debate until all members had an opportunity to speak.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he expected the final House vote to be taken not later than next week.

There was a possibility the Senate might get on later to a vote on one pending civil rights proposal.

Johnson told newsmen he hoped for an early vote on an amendment, proposed by ardent civil rights advocates, to give the attorney general broad powers to bring injunction suits in school desegregation cases and all other civil rights fields.

Johnson said that if he could get a vote on this tonight, he would hold the Senate in late session to do so.

Johnson said he, Dirksen and "other men of good will" were still trying to find an effective civil rights bill on which 67 senators could agree.

That number would permit the Senate to end debate, now in its fourth week, and vote.

The vote in the Senate was forced by a group of self-styled liberals against the advice of the leaders of both parties, and defeat of the effort was widely predicted.

The vote was ordered on a petition of 31 senators to invoke the Senate's cloture rule under which each senator's speaking time would be limited to one hour.

The rule, not successfully invoked since 1927, can be put into effect only by a two-thirds majority vote of the senators present.

A band of 18 Southern Senators fighting civil rights legislation carried on a full-scale filibuster through around-the-clock sessions which started Feb. 29 after the first two weeks of debate. The nonstop sessions ended by agreement Tuesday night and are not expected to be resumed even if lengthy debate continues.

Some senators believe the Senate is likely to wind up by taking the House bill if it is not greatly changed. But it will not reach the Senate for another week.

Demonstration Held by Negroes at Little Rock Lunch Counter

Appeals in Hamm Case Considered

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Three judges of the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday heard arguments on an appeal by four Arkansas Negroes under a death sentence for murder, then took the case under advisement.

Attorneys for the defendants contend that confessions used during the trials were obtained under duress, that Negroes were systematically excluded from juries which convicted them and the fact they were tried under an information rather than an indictment violated their rights.

The condemned men are Roger Boone, 26; Willie Henry Byrd, 23; James Moore, 22; and James Albert Boyd, 21, all convicted in the robbery slaying of a 76 year old white man, M. R. Hamm, near Texarkana, Ark., May 9, 1956.

Thorp Thomas, assistant Arkansas attorney general, said that in the original trial only Moore objected to the jury panel — the others waiving this point — and it was shown that 10 Negroes were on the original panel, although none were chosen.

Thomas said the confessions of the four men were taken separately and later authorities read their statements to them in a penitentiary "away from any threat of mob violence" and asked them if they cared to make any changes. They made only minor changes, Thomas said.

Boyd's confession was ruled involuntary in his latest trial, Thomas noted, but the confessions of the other three were used in evidence against him. The Supreme Court has many times ruled against the defendants on the question of being tried on an information, Thomas said.

The Arkansas official said Boyd, Boone and Byrd haven't exhausted all legal remedies in the lower courts.

Junior Class Play to Be Held in March

Do you enjoy laughing? If so, don't miss "Wait for Marcy," annual play of the Hope Junior Class, with presentations Thursday and Friday afternoons and Friday night, March 17 and 18.

Rosamond DuJardin presents a satirical array of wholesome activities to "tickle your funny bone" in one of her popular books for teenagers, from which the play was taken.

Admission will be 50c for students and $1 for adults.

Italy Trying for New Government

ROME (AP) President Giovanni Gronchi today asked Premier Antonio Segni, who submitted the resignation of his one-party Cabinet Feb. 24, to try to form another government. Segni was expected to attempt to put together a coalition. His former government was composed only of his Christian Democrats.

He told reporters he will begin talks with other political leaders as soon as possible to see whether he can solve the two-week old crisis.

All HD Clubs Represented at Meeting

Each Home Demonstration Club in Hempstead County was represented at the spring council on March 9 at 10 in the WOW Hall with a total attendance of 62 club women.

Mrs. Lester Kent, council president, presided and the meeting opened with group singing led by Mrs. Ernest Graham accompanied by Mrs. Mable Seaward. Mrs. Kent discussed the afternoon program at the Saenger theater — Conference on the Middle and the Golden Years of Life.

Mrs. A. B. King, council vice president, gave a talk on HD Club objectives and increasing interest and membership in club work.

Money making ideas for the council were discussed by Mrs. O. B. Hodnett, chairman of the finance committee.

A committee was appointed to plan the five county recreation day to observe National HD Week May 1-7. They were Mrs. Cline Franks, Mrs. Lester Kent and Mrs. Graham.

Those appointed to the scholarship committee were Mrs. Vernon McMurry, Mrs. William Schooley, Mrs. Ernest Graham and Mrs. Merlin Cox.

A highlight of the meeting was a kitchen hat show by the Centerville club. Mrs. R. C. Shellgrove won first place with a hat from a breadbasket covered with "Chore Girl" flowers and an ice pick for a hat pin. Mrs. Mamie Sanders won second place with a hat fashioned from a calendar covered with foil, a dish cloth band, and a hot pad flower.

The group enjoyed a covered dish luncheon and adjourned to go to the Saenger for the afternoon program.

Strafing Under Study

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Army officials today sought links between antigovernment rebels and the air force pilot who strafed President Sukarno's palace. Evidence so far indicated the pilot was motivated by a personal grudge.

Sukarno and his family escaped injury in the raid Wednesday by 2nd Lt. Daniel Munir, 28, who peppered the Jakarta palace and a fishing settlement adjacent to Batavia Harbor. Eighteen persons were wounded.

5 Arrested for Refusing to Leave Store

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Sixty Negroes staged a lunch counter demonstration at a downtown store against segregation today and five who refused to leave, arrested.

The Negroes filed into the store (Woolworth's) and quietly seated themselves at the lunch counter. Police Chief Gene Smith arrived five minutes later in response to a call from the store manager.

Smith told the manager, "If we closed the counter and the Negroes refused to leave they would be arrested for disturbing the peace. The counter was closed and several loitered. The others, carrying books under their arms, left. Police went to other lunch counters, watching for other demonstrations by Negroes. None was reported.

The demonstration lasted only a few minutes.

Whether the Negroes were actually students or not could not be determined immediately. They appeared to be of college age and carried books but a spokesman at Philander Smith College for Negroes in Little Rock said he had no knowledge of the demonstration.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, could not be reached for comment immediately.

Snows Pose No Serious Flood Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today the snows which have piled up along the Eastern seaboard in the past 10 days pose no serious flood threat at this time.

However, forecasters said any blast of warm air accompanied by two or three days of warm rain would change the outlook considerably.

"At the moment," one meteorologist said, "it looks like more snow instead of warm rain." The recent snow storms have left up to 50 inches of snow on the ground at some points in the Appalachian Mountains. This is the case at the headwaters of the Potomac River.

If all this now were to melt quickly, weather experts said, the rivers along the eastern slopes of the Appalachians probably would overflow their banks.

Meteorologists figure that 10 inches of snow is roughly equivalent to one inch of rain. The big coverage of snow at the source of the Potomac therefore is equal to about five inches of rain — enough to cause flooding if it moved down the valley in a single torrent.

Frisco Not to Abandon Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Frisco Railroad has decided not to abandon a 23-mile branch line linking Wilson and Wilson Junction in Mississippi County, Ark. The railroad yesterday withdrew a request for Interstate Commerce Commission approval of dropping the spur.

The company said it had discussed the proposal with shippers in the area and the shippers indicated they would give the branch line more business.

It's too bad that everyone who has a college diploma doesn't have a college education to go with it.

Democratic Committee Fixes Candidate Fees

The Hempstead Democratic Central Committee yesterday fixed fees for six main county offices at $700 without opposition and $500 with opposition, abolished one rural box and eliminated meals for officials in the future.

The first preferential primary will be held July 26 and the runoff primary, two weeks later on August 9.

Previously meals have been furnished to officials in the Hope precincts because so many voters have to cast ballots at noon or after work in the afternoon. This expense usually ran from $200 to $225 in the eight Hope precincts.

In other action the group abolished the Belton box in Redland township. Voters in that area will cast ballots at McCaskill.

4th Term Is Indicated by Faubus

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus hinted at a possible candidacy for an unprecedented fourth term as governor here last night.

Faubus did not reveal any political plans. But he noted that the Pea Ridge Battlefield is to be dedicated in 1962 and remarked, "I'd sort of like to be around for that."

He added, "I might have to do something I can't talk about here, because this is a non-political meeting." He spoke to the Trumann Lions Club.

It was his only reference to future plans in a speech devoted largely to review his administration and his stand on integration.

Revision of Sugar Law Is Proposed

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) said today the administration apparently plans to ask for a new sugar law which he said could be a "weapon of reprisal" against Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Administration sources confirmed that some changes which Cooley opposes are included in a bill they intend to submit next week to the House Agriculture Committee, which Cooley heads.

But they denied the administration measure is designed as a club against Cuba, which reaps a 150-million dollars yearly bonus under present law. They said their bill is merited for agricultural reasons, and would not hurt Cuba.

Sugar legislation is an especially hot issue this year because of Castro's attacks on the United States and seizure of American-owned property in Cuba. Some Congressmen see the sugar bill as a golden chance to hit back at Castro. President Eisenhower has declined against retaliation.

Cooley spoke to a newsman after conferring late Wednesday with Under Secretary of Agriculture Fred D. Morse and other officials on administration plans.

The present law expires at the end of this year. The basic aim of the sugar law, first passed early in the New Deal, is to protect the U.S. sugar industry from violent ups and downs. Quotas prevent an oversupply of sugar in the United States, and prices far above the world market rate are paid for imported sugar to keep it from

Charged With Post Exchange Robbery

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—FBI agents arrested Lewis B. Walker last night on a charge of robbing a post exchange at McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., of $19,032. It was his second arrest on federal charges within a week.

J. J. Casper, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI office, said Walker was visiting relatives in Pine Bluff.

Walker, 22, was jailed pending a hearing before a United States Commissioner. The arrest warrant was obtained from U.S. Commissioner George Barlow of Trenton, N. J.

Casper said Walker also was charged with theft of six engagement rings, six wedding rings and a man's wrist watch from the post exchange last Feb. 16.

The agent said Walker was arrested here on another charge several days ago. This charge concerned issuance of a worthless check at the air base. Walker had been given a hearing and released under bond on this count.

AAU Basketball Play to Start

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock Choro Boys will meet the Fort Sil Cannoneers in Fort Smith Monday night with the winner qualifying for the national AAU Basketball tournament in Denver. The Choro Boys are 9-1 in the Central Arkansas League.

Fort Sil is 20-9 for the season and is the Oklahoma AAU champion.

The Choro Boys were selected to represent Arkansas when no other teams entered a proposed tournament.

Undercutting domestic growers, Cuba sells about half her annual six-million-ton production of sugar to the United States.

The quota change under the administration plan was said to call for a shift of 200,000 tons from Cuba's quota to that given U.S. mainland growers. Cuba in turn would get 200,000 tons of Puerto Rico's quota, if Puerto Rico fails to fill its quota as it has in the past.

Cooley said this change would give an "uncertain" 200,000 tons to Cuba in place of a sure 200,000. Administration officials said Puerto Rico was certain to fall short, and eastern U.S. refineries wanted a surer source of supply.

Advantages of River Development

OZARK, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas River development program will be a self-liquidating investment, the executive vice president of the Mississippi Valley Assn., said here last night.

Everett T. Winter of St. Louis told 250 persons at a meeting of the Arkansas Basin Assn., that the development program should be considered as a capital investment, rather than an ordinary expenditure.

Winter said the government would regain in $1,100,000,000 cost of the project in such direct ways as taxes on higher incomes resulting from "the development of this land-locked area with natural resources that are denied to the rest of the country for lack of river transport."

The rest of the nation needs vast supplies of coal, petroleum, timber, bauxite and farm products that Arkansas has, Winter said. C. F. Byrnes of Fort Smith, editor of the Southwest American Gleedale, Ark., with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pledger and daughters.

Miss Sarah Dewoody, student at the U of A spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Dewoody.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koslosky and Judy were Sunday visitors in Arkadelphia.

Mrs. Mildred Dickerson of Hope was the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gee and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Durham.

Times Record and a longtime leader in the Arkansas development program, reviewed the long struggle to get the project adopted by the federal government.

Byrnes predicted the program would "move along now" barring a war or some other major reason for diverting National wealth.

Principal aim of the development program is establishment of a nine-foot navigation "channel" from Tulsa, Okla., to the mouth of the Arkansas. Flood control will be another major benefit from development.

Pet Hamster Is Doing Nicely

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—How do you revive a half-frozen pet hamster found in the crisp tray of a refrigerator?

That question was asked by a Charleston woman in a call to a member of the conservation department's education division.

A department employee countered by asking how the hamster got into the refrigerator.

The woman explained her little girl had decided to give the pet a "room of its very own" and had selected the crisp tray.

The only answer to the dilemma appeared to be to "thaw out" the hamster. The department said Wednesday the little animal apparently was doing well.

Don't Judge Maladjusted
By Normal Standards

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband is an only child. His mother died when he was a good life — much better than a god life — much better than mine. They seem to be fine, good people.

We have been married 12 years and have two daughters, nine and eight. Before they were born he grew moody and morose, drank too much and at one point was under the care of a psychiatrist. He still resents the children and calls them "dummies" or "stupid nuts." He nags and finds fault with them until they are so upset that their teachers have questioned me.

My husband calls me "Mommie" or "Duckie" and follows me from room to room. He asks me if I am right if he "turns on TV" or "has a bath," or goes to "sleepy?"—the latter he does at six or seven o'clock, leaving me up with the children until their bedtime.

He wakes me at two or three in the morning because he is so jittery he cannot sleep. I have had three or four hours sleep while he has had seven or eight. When I try to talk to him he walks out or goes to bed. When I threaten divorce, he says he will contest it. He works only three or four days each week. I never know when he will be home. Sometimes it is two hours after he leaves and sometimes it is midnight. He tells me I'm the best wife in the world, then says that I'm "a cheap slob" in the next.

He dislikes animals, children and his family and mine. He calls my friends "a bunch of bums," and has made life so hard, I no longer care. Perhaps it is my fault, but believe me, I have tried. I go about given up. I am afraid I too will begin to drink. He says "We will just go on like this until we die, and the sooner the better." I am at the end of my rope.—Maxine

Dear Maxine: Your husband's actions indicate that he is still in need of psychiatric treatment. Don't measure a mentally ill man by the same yardstick you would use for a normal human being. It won't work. Have him treated first.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

For a year and a half I have gone with the same boy. We are both 13. The time is coming when he will ask me to marry him. He wants a family life of his own, would prefer to be a housewife than secretary. My boy friend occasionally hits me in a fit of jealousy.

For three years I have been in love with another boy, who went into Reserve Army training. He has dated the same girl since he was in high school but they do not go steady. He knows I have been or "Duckie" and follows me from room to room. He asks me if I brought me home from where I worked. I told him I was going or "has a bath," or goes to "sleepy?"—the latter he does at six or seven o'clock, leaving me up with the children until their bedtime.

Wichita, Kan. Church Quits Nat'l Council

WICHITA (AP)—The membership of Wichita's First Baptist Church voted 1,170 to 235 Wednesday night to withdraw its financial support of the American Baptist Convention "because of its affiliation with the National Council of Churches."

The church has about 4,300 members and is the largest of the 6,250 congregations in the American Baptist Convention. It has given the convention about $30,000 a year.

The action of the membership affirmed a 32-7 vote by the deacons a month ago.

The deacons acted on a report by a special study committee of 10 laymen.

Their report said they were concerned about reports linking present and past officers of the National Council with organizations cited as Communist, Communist-front and socialist.

It criticized the National Council's efforts toward protestant unity and contended the Council advocates admission of Red China to the United Nations.

The American Baptist Convention has about 1 1/2 million members and ranks fourth among Baptist bodies in the United States. Its leaders have been active in the National Council. One of them is Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council.

Dahlberg is scheduled to address a public meeting at the First Methodist Church in Little Rock tomorrow night.

Three Little Rock women, one a prominent segregationist, have protested his appearance at the church. Mrs. Margaret Morrison, an outspoken critic of racial integration, and Mrs. Anne Bishop and Mrs. Emily McCray charged that Dahlberg has been associated with some organizations listed as subversive.

They did not accuse Dahlberg of being a Communist but called him "naive."

Dahlberg said the charge by the women was nothing new. He termed it another in a long series of incidents which included charges that Communists had infiltrated churches.

Snowstorms Crippling in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A crippling March snowstorm which gave the Midwest and South one of the worst weather thrashings of the winter—drifted into light snow and flurries across the East today.

From the Central Plains into the Middle Atlantic region, the storm left a 15-state path of misery, inconvenience and hardship, icy, inconvenient and hardship.

Before it began to taper off at midday, the storm dumped staggering depths of snow across sections of North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. Hazardous driving was reported northeastward into Maryland.

State highway crews worked round the clock to clear more than a foot of snow from roads in northern North Carolina. Portions of southwestern Virginia were swamped under overnight snows which ranged up to 30 inches at Kenne in Lee County.

Sleet, freezing rain and rain ofered an additional menace to highway travel in southern North Carolina.

The storm that fanned across the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys appeared to have lost much of its fury as it moved northeast across the Appalachians. But snow fell through Maryland and Delaware, with falls from 3 to 6 inches. Lesser amounts were forecast in New Jersey and New York.

Meanwhile, a new storm which developed in the central Rockies extended southward across the western Dakotas and more snow was indicated in the stormy midcontinent and the upper Ohio Valley.

The major storm spread a heavy blanket of snow across a dozen or more states after sweeping out of the Texas Panhandle Tuesday. The fresh falls piled atop the heavy covering from last week's storm across the same wintry path.

Snow depths were up to two feet in southwest Virginia and piled up to record amounts in many communities in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri.

The early March storm, with springs only 11 days away, left scores of towns isolated. Hundreds of travelers were stranded as bus and plane service was disrupted or canceled. Hundreds of schools, stores and factories were closed. In parts of the storm belt, funeral services were postponed and church services canceled.

Emergency Road Fund Is Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Department will hold back one-fifth of the state's federal matching funds each year for any emergency projects that may arise, an official disclosed today.

Highway Director P. R. Oliver said the holdback won't be made on a cumulative basis. If the money is not spent within a year it will be released for immediate use.

Oliver told the annual meeting of the Arkansas Highway Users Conference that some two million dollars was kept back from federal funds this year. He said a similar step will be taken every year from now on.

"Holdback" funds which remain in the Highway Department's coffers when an allotting period comes up can simply be added to the new money, he said.

"This will not only provide for emergencies but also will give the Department a cushion in case we underestimate some of the project costs through the year."

Oliver said the holdback idea is part of the Highway Department's long-range planning program which will "keep the Department three years ahead in its programmatic activity."

Going into details on the long-range programming, he said it would "let us work down from the top and as projects are put into construction they will be eliminated and new ones added. In other words, we'll cut off from the top and add at the bottom as the work goes along."

The director said highway money will be portioned out by formula to the 10 highway districts in Arkansas.

The formula calls for the distribution to be determined 20 per cent by population, 20 per cent by area, 10 per cent by highway user revenues from the area and 50 per cent on the estimated cost of completing the system in each district as compared to the cost in the entire state.

Oliver emphasized that the long-range programming and formula setup has no connection with the interstate highway system. Only primary, secondary and urban roads are affected.

On another subject, Oliver said he had no estimate at present on how much damage was caused to Arkansas highways by recent bad weather.

He said the Highway Department has a one million dollar fund in state appropriations which can be used for emergency work.

"I hope that this money plus routine maintenance will be sufficient to repair the damage," he said.

New officers for the Highway Users Conference are to be elected later today.

Way Blocked to 18 Miners Entombed

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP)—Two entrances, either of which was expected to lead to the 18 trapped men in a burning coal mine, were found blocked by slate falls today, delaying the drive to rescue them.

Worried, begrimed rescue workers, who had expected to reach their buddies by early morning, conceded that the job now would take much longer.

More than 48 hours has passed since last word was received from the trapped men on the mine telephone at noon Tuesday, and there was no indication whether they were dead or still alive.

A new rescue crew was ordered today, a crew that officials of the Island Creek Coal Co., operator of No. 22 Mine at Holden, eight miles southwest of here, had hoped would not be needed.

Newsman attempting to get some clue as to how soon the rescue might come inquired of an official about making arrangements to stay at the scene still another night.

"Go ahead and make 'em," he said glumly.

Word also filtered out of the mine, not confirmed, that the rescue workers were experiencing increasing difficulty with rising heat.

Mines normally have a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees, relatively comfortable in which to work.

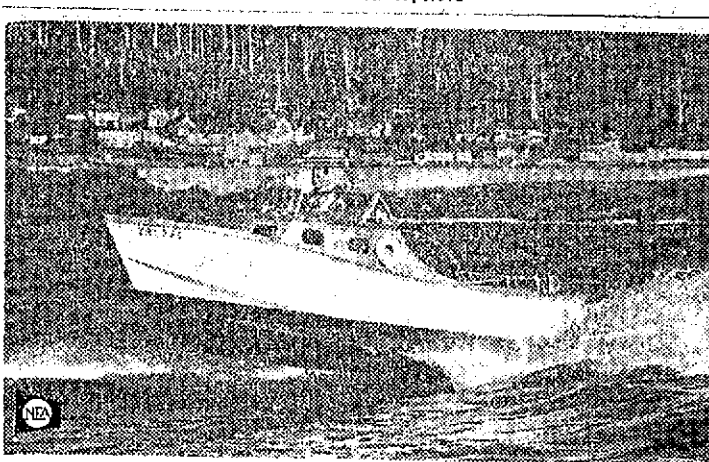

Temperatures outside the mine weren't so cold Wednesday night. Unofficially, the low was 19 degrees above zero, compared with 11 above the night before.

More than a foot of new snow from Wednesday's near-blizzard blanketed the grimy mine buildings, one of which bore a red neon sign with the words, "Be careful."

The snow subsided to flurries during the morning, but leaden skies held promise of more.

victed slayer of an elderly widow made the admission to the late Warden Harley O. Teets of San Quentin prison.

Leavy, who was Chessman's prosecutor, was the final witness. He said he related the Graham story because a movie of her life left the impression she was innocent.

Even as the Senate committee debated the death penalty question, the California Supreme Court Wednesday turned down Chessman's latest petition. This one challenged legality of his new May 2 execution date.

A. L. Wirin, one of his attorneys, told newsmen here the decision ended Chessman's court appeals.

"Chessman's fate is now entirely in the hands of the governor unless the Legislature takes favorable action," he said.

Brown, after giving Chessman a 60-day reprieve Feb. 19, said he would let him die if the state's lawmakers rejected his plea to abolish capital punishment.

The 38-year-old prisoner was convicted in 1948 on charges of kidnap-robbery which involved forcing two young women to perform an unnatural sex act.

The Senate committee listened to proponents of repeal for seven hours. It wasn't until 8:30 p.m. that opponents—chiefly law-enforcement officers—stepped up to the witness stand in the theater-type hearing room.

Witnesses supporting the bill hit two main themes: That capital punishment does not deter crime; that it is "barbaric" and "brutalizes society."

All but one of the opposition witnesses argued that the death penalty is a greater deterrent than any other form of punishment.

The exception was Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson of Ventura County, who said that the death penalty is no greater deterrent than life imprisonment.

Bennett Hits Welfare in Clinic Care

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said today that the Welfare Department's policy of not making funds available for outpatient clinic care at the University Medical Center is a major cause of the Center's financial problems.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a suburban civic club tonight, Bennett said the hospital could add one million dollars to its income at a cost of only $300,000 to the state.

He explained that the rest of the money would come from federal, state security funds if the outpatient clinic for welfare clients quota system.

The quota system allows each county to send only a certain number of patients to the Center free of charge each year.

Bennett said he has asked the Arkansas Legislative Council to consider his recommendations.

Five Children

all hope had been given up of finding anyone left alive.

The children ranged from 6 to 15 years old. One was a Moslem and four were Jewish children.

About half the 2,400 Jews in Agadeir are estimated to have died in the earthquake.

Finding the latest survivors spurred rescue workers who are combing the city and using air hammers and other equipment to raise and probe bits of wreckage.

Efforts centered in the native quarter, where engineers teams carefully combed the entire area, and in the region of the collapsed Hotel Sada, where faint voices are reported to have been heard.

The workers in the town are now mainly Moroccan soldiers and a company of American engineers. The French have offered to land 700 sailors to continue rescue work if they should be needed.

The city is still cordoned off by troops and has been completely sprayed with chlorine, D.D.T., quicklime and other disinfectants.

Up to 12,000 persons are estimated to have died in the quake. Of these, two are Americans.

They are Mrs. Werner Bauer, of Placentia, Calif., whose body was pulled from the family's apartment, and her daughter, Norene, who died Wednesday at the U.S. Naval Hospital at Port Lyautey.

Five Americans are listed as missing, and two of them are known to have registered at the Sada.

Faubus dwelt at length on integration in his talk, reiterating that there is no "new Faubus" on the contrary. He criticized the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation decision and cited Washington, D.C., as an example of harm created by integration.

Protests Fare Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Delta Air Lines has protested fare decreases proposed by Trans-Texas Airways for flights between Alexandria, La., and Little Rock and between Little Rock and Memphis.

Delta yesterday asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to investigate the proposals, which involve routes on which Delta is competitive with Trans-Texas. Delta said Trans-Texas' statement that the rate cuts were designed to promote travel to vacation resorts was a "shallow presentation."

He also said the Center stands to lose some of the medical students to other hospitals because its patient load is too small.

He blamed this on the lack of the outpatient clinic and the county quota system.

Methodist Group Urges Integration

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Hendrix College President Marshall Steel declined comment last night on a resolution urging immediate racial integration at the Methodist Church-operated school here.

The integration demand was contained in a resolution adopted in February by the Arkansas Methodist Student Movement, meeting at Arkansas Tech. About 150 students, representing most Arkansas colleges, attended.

Hendrix is not integrated. The resolution deplored "partial and incomplete acceptance of (racial) equality in our state schools" and called for definite steps toward an end to segregation at Hendrix "lest the church be the last institution to grant equal rights to all the children of God."

A statement accompanying the resolution, which was not made public until yesterday, said it was adopted unanimously.

Steel said he had seen the resolution but preferred not to comment on it.

SW Conference Irrked Over Pro Encroachment

DALLAS (AP)—The Southwest Conference viewed with alarm to day what it considered professional football's encroachment on the college and high school field by playing games on Fridays and Saturdays.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the conference, said the colleges are not opposed to professional football so long as it operates on Sundays, which he said is "the traditional professional day."

The Rangers, Dallas club in the National Football League, have been granted permission to play some Saturday night games in the Cotton Bowl and this brought the Southwest Conference statement.

Grubbs noted that it was nothing new — pro football playing games on Saturday nights. He pointed out that the NFL did this at least twice last year, in addition to one game on Thanksgiving Day.

Then he cited the announcement of the New York club of the American Football League that it would play games on Friday nights and Thanksgiving Day.

Grubbs said that traditionally colleges and high schools have played their games on Friday and Saturday afternoons and nights while, in the past, the professional teams have confined their schedules to Sunday.

"Late developments indicate that the professional teams do not intend to follow their established procedure in this regard," Grubbs said.

A&M Licked by Hamline in MAIA Play

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The end of the Cinderella trail came yesterday for Arkansas A&M.

The Boll Weevils were knocked out of the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball tournament by Hamline 69-76.

Hamline, three times an NAIA champion, took control of the game after the first four minutes. The Pied Pipers led 39-21 at the half.

Del McClure with 22 points and Bill Nelson with 21 led the Hamline attack. Harold Mobley scored 22 for A&M. Butch Ferrier added 16 and Marshall Day 10.

A&M couldn't find the basket in the first half, hitting only 25 percent of its shots. The Aggies improved their game percentage to 41.2 per cent with some fancy shooting in the second half, but Hamline was out of reach.

A&M charted an upset course through the Dist. 17 NAIA tournament to win the Pine Bluff trip. Then the Aggies whipped Western Washington, a seeded team, in the first round of the tournament here.

The Arkansas Aggies also won 11 straight games to close the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race after a 2-5 start. They finished in third place with a 13-5 record and then beat the first place team, Arkansas Tech, in the semifinals of the district tournament.

This was A&M's first trip to the NAIA meet here.

Injuries Slight

NLR Upset in State Meet; Hope Defeated

BLITHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Unheralded Forrest City pulled the only upset of the first round in the Class AAA-AA state basketball tournament and the Mustangs picked the biggest team in the event to pull it on.

North Little Rock, Big Nine champion and 25-1 for the year coming into the tournament, fell before the steady Ponies 55-52 last night.

Three other games went according to form to set up today's quarterfinals. Jonesboro, Forrest City's opponent at 8:50 tonight, thrashed Camden Fairview 76-51. Little Rock Catholic slammed Hope 69-32 and Fort Smith, which won the first two of these upper classification tournaments, eased past Fayetteville 39-37 in the only tight contest of the first round.

The afternoon quarterfinals pit opening day winners against each other—second seeded Blitheville vs. Little Rock Central at 2 p.m. and Harrison against Leachville at 3:20.

Catholic meets Fort Smith at 7:30 in the first night game.

North Little Rock hadn't lost since it was upset by Leachville in its second game of the season. The Wildcats nailed down the Big Nine Conference Crown in convincing fashion and came to this tournament as the prohibitive favorites. But they were no match for Forrest City, which jumped to a 20-20 halftime margin and built a 10-point bulge at 45-35 early in the final period.

Scared, the Wildcats showed their potential in the next few minutes and tied the count at 50-50. But two free throws by Phil Tickey and two by Donnie Kessinger gave the Mustangs four points of breathing room. Phil Sherrill got North Little Rock back within range with a basket but another free shot by Tommy Higgs with eight seconds left put Forrest City out of reach.

Kessinger, who made all-state in this tournament in 1958, set an individual scoring record with 33 points. The old mark of 31 was set last year by Tommy Boyer of Fort Smith, now a University of Arkansas freshman star.

Fort Smith didn't quite match Forrest City's feat of blowing a 10-point lead in the last quarter. But the Bruins wasted eight points of a 39-29 advantage in the final two minutes.

Holding the Grizzlies scoreless, Fayetteville climbed to 39-37 and then got possession again. The Bulldogs called time out with two seconds left. When play resumed, Jim Higgins took the desperation shot and missed.

Larry Hoyt's 23 points led Catholic over Hope. Larry Vaughan had 10 for Hope.

Carroll Anderson scored 21 points for Jonesboro which had Fairview well in hand throughout the evening.

U. S. Enters Pro Football Dispute

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Grievances of the fledgling American Football League, which charges the old National Football League is trying to destroy it, are in the hands of the U.S. Justice Department.

Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, said he had filed an affidavit with the Justice Department embodying most of the charges he first leveled at the NFL the day it voted to expand and take in Dallas as a competing club with the Dallas AFL team owned by Lamar Hunt.

Foss said the NFL had tried to entice AFL members away, franchised teams in cities that had AFL clubs and tried to impede the new league in its efforts to obtain suitable players and coaches.

Foss said he was invited by the Justice Department, along with other AFL officials, to file affidavits when it decided to investigate the charges that the NFL was attempting to crush the AFL.

At Washington, the Justice Department said Wednesday the affidavit had been received and was being studied by the antitrust division. Foss said the Justice Department should know within a few days what action it was going to take.

W. Memphis Group Talks With Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A West Memphis delegation conferred with Gov. Orval E. Faubus late yesterday, but what they talked about was not disclosed in any detail.

One report was that the group saw Faubus about getting their choice appointed to the Crittenden County Election Commission, which has a vacancy.

Faubus said the vacancy was mentioned but he would not elaborate. He said he was no hurry to make an appointment.

When the meeting was scheduled last week, it was hinted as part of a crusade of some church leaders against alleged gambling and vice in West Memphis.

No one at the session would confirm this directly.

Both Faubus and the Rev. Boyd Eldridge, West Memphis Baptist minister, said the "moral atmosphere" of West Memphis had been touched on.

Faubus said that the recent slaying of a 14-year-old Memphis girl by a 17-year-old Memphis boy near West Memphis was not mentioned.

Eldridge was accompanied by six other persons.

Eldridge said before the meeting that disclosure of its nature would "damage our cause."

He said afterward that the half-hour talk with Faubus had been "successful and had accomplished its purpose."

He still didn't say what this purpose was.

Deed to Hospital at Spa Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A delay in obtaining the deed to the Army Navy Hospital at Hot Springs apparently is certain to put off the planned June 30 opening of the facility as a regional vocational rehabilitation center.

That's the word from Don Russell, director of the Arkansas Vocational Rehabilitation division of the state Education Department.

Russell said today he expects the deed at any time, but doubts the hospital can be remodeled soon enough to start accepting patients by the end of the fiscal year in June.

He said an application for Hill-Burton funds — federal matching money — will have to be processed and other details handled before the remodeling can begin.

Russell added that he hopes to have a "reliable estimate" of this cost by the time the state education Board meets here Monday.

Originally Russell expected to get the deed to the hospital by Jan. 1. He said it had been stalled in Washington's "red tape," but the only thing now holding it back is the signature of the Secretary of the Army.

Garland Gets an Acting Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—J. M. Lowry, former Garland County judge, was appointed today as acting judge.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus named Lowry to serve while Co. Judge H. C. Warren is under suspension. Warren has been indicted on several charges alleging official misconduct by a Garland County Grand Jury.

If Warren should be exonerated, he will return to office. In any case, Lowry cannot serve longer than Warren's unexpired term which ends this year, nor can he be a candidate for an elective term to make a good appearance.

Admits Stealing For Blind Bad

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An unemployed clerical worker who said he kept from going hungry by stealing from a blind woman's concession stand in the courthouse agrees "it's pretty rotten."

Carl Edward Hammond, 37, was charged with theft Tuesday after Sheriff T. O. Lang arrested him near the stand.

The stand, operated by Miss Nell Seales, is run on an "honor system" in which patrons make their own change from bowls on the counter.

Hammond was held without bail. He gave his address as 23 Gramercy Place, New York.

Lang said Hammond admitted stealing "maybe half a dozen sandwiches" and short-changing the blind owner on several occasions.

Hammond told a newsman he had been unable to get a job because he was too short of money to make a good appearance.

Senator From Oregon Dies at Age of 47

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), an apparent victor over cancer, died today, eight hours after he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at his Portland home. He was 47.

He had been in a coma through Tuesday night. Death came at 1:30 a.m. at Good Samaritan Hospital.

It immediately threw the Oregon political picture into confusion. He had filed last week for re-election. Filings for his place in the May 20 primary election must be made by Friday of this week to get on the ballot.

Immediately after Neuberger was stricken it was apparent that his condition was critical. It was a sudden reversal of what he had hoped was an early return to good health.

He became ill in the summer of 1958. That August he underwent an operation for cancer. Five months later he was smiling broadly as he told a news conference he regarded himself as a cured cancer patient.

He said there was no recurrence of cancer but he failed to shake off colds and other virus infections and then suffered an attack of shingles.

In January he came home to recuperate. He said he was getting better and last week he filed for re-election.

So strong was his support in Oregon that the Republicans had groomed no one of stature to oppose him.

Neuberger was elected in 1954.

May Close Station

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Frisco Railroad has asked the state Commerce Commission for permission to close its freight agency station at Texora because of declining revenues.

The commission yesterday scheduled a public hearing on the request for March 23.

Keeps a Promise

PIEDMONT, W. Va. (AP)—Harold Hamilton is the kind of fellow who keeps a promise.

So he walked 11 miles Tuesday to make good on his vow to contribute a pint of blood.

Hamilton lives at Chestnut Grove, Md. and a Red Cross bloodmobile was visiting this area. He explained his car broke down, so he walked.

A Busy Woman Deserves A Break And A Delicious Cup Of Coffee

IT'S nine-thirty in the morning. Your husband is hard at work, your children are safe at school, your grocery shopping is done. No question about it, you deserve a leisurely cup of coffee!

Today, most everyone agrees that the coffee break is just as important for the woman at home as it is for the man in the office. It gives her a chance to relax for ten or fifteen minutes and, at the same time, restores the energy that her busy schedule demands.

But How's The Coffee?

While there's no question that the coffee break is a good idea, all too often we only get half the enjoyment from it that we should. Why? Because many of us take the good old cup of coffee for granted and brew it catch-as-catch-can. For some reason, we're making a watery, insipid substitute for a really good, full-bodied brew.

If we could just take a little extra care in preparing our coffee, we would quickly discover what we're missing. Well-brewed coffee can transform a coffee break into an occasion just as it can transform an ordinary meal into a banquet. In case you've been disappointed in your coffee recently, here are a few reminders on brewing it properly. If you follow the simple directions and measure accurately, you can't go wrong!

How to Make Delicious Coffee

To make good coffee, it's important to start with a clean coffee maker, fresh coffee and fresh cold water. Then comes the all-important measuring and timing. For each serving of average strength coffee, use this ratio of coffee to water:

1 Standard Coffee Measure (or 2 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee
% of a measuring cup (6 ounces) of water

For accurate timing, use the following directions for each type of coffee maker:

Percolator — percolate over low heat from 6 to 8 minutes, no longer.

Vacuum — hold brewing coffee in upper bowl no longer than 3 minutes.

Drip — pour in boiling water; it should go through coffee in 4 to 6 minutes; stir before serving.

Here are some additional tips on making the perfect cup of coffee. (1) Always use at least three-quarters capacity of your coffee maker. If you want fewer cups, use a smaller maker. (2) It is best to serve coffee as soon as it is brewed, but if you must hold it, keep it over very low heat. Never reheat it. (3) Brewing too long makes coffee bitter. (4) Always use the proper grind for your coffee maker. (5) Most important, never allow coffee to boil.

State Not to Try to Regain School Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the Little Rock School Board said today the board won't try to recover state aid funds which were paid to the defunct Raney High School.

Raney was an all-white private school, one of three established to handle students displaced in the shutdown of Little Rock's public high schools during the 1958-59 school year.

Raney got funds under a special Arkansas statute. Funds were withheld from the Little Rock district after Gov. Orval E. Faubus shut the public high schools against integration.

Red Lamb, secretary of the school board, said the board's counsel told members there was not much use in trying to recover the funds.

Lamb said he made a motion at a board meeting yesterday for an effort to recover the money. He said the motion lost, 4-2.

The funds involved amount to more than $70,000.

Raney High, which had an enrollment of about 800, folded just before the school board reopened the high schools with token integration last summer.

Ginners Told to Question Buyers

MEMPHIS (AP) — Ginners were warned yesterday to question the motives of buyers who complain that cotton offered for sale has been damaged by overheating.

David Chandler extension cotton ginning specialist at Little Rock, said buyers often don't know what they are talking about or are attempting to influence prices in their favor.

He said the overheating charge sometimes is made to ginners whose machines are not equipped with driers or who did not have them in operation.

He was the first speaker at a forum held in connection with the Mid-South Gin Supply Exhibit here. Other speakers discussed mechanization of the cotton industry.

Final Rites for Arkansas Coach

ATHENS, a. (AP) — Funeral services for football coach J. B. Whitworth, a former resident of Blytheville, Ark., will be held today at Oconee Hill Cemetery.

Whitworth's body was found Monday in his home here. The coroner said he died about five days earlier of a heart attack.

Whitworth, 50, was head coach at Oklahoma State and Alabama before becoming a Georgia University aide last season.

Survivors include his widow, who was visiting relatives in New York at the time of his death, and one son, J. B. Jr., a student at Alabama.

Land Suits Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal government has filed suit in U. S. District Court to condemn 703 acres of land needed for the Greers Ferry Reservoir near Heber Springs.

The government offered 43,372 for the property.

Land valued at $1,200,000 already has been acquired for the reservoir through condemnation proceedings. Trial of these cases will take several years.

GOP Delegates

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Sue Grayson of Magnolia and C. J. Lauderdale of Texarkana were elected yesterday as delegates to the Republican National Convention from the Fourth Congressional District.

They were named by the Fourth District Central Committee. Lauderdale also was elected committee chairman.

Jury Studies Testimony in Finch Case

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "How long is an inch?"

The jury weighing the guilt or innocence of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, interrupted their deliberations Tuesday to ask that question.

A bailiff summoned by the jury foreman — began to search for a ruler. But he was called back.

"Never mind," he was told. "We have one."

They didn't explain but one guess was that they wanted to measure something on a scale map of the area in which the Finch home is located.

Dr. Finch, 42 and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Both crimes carry a possible death penalty.

The five men and seven women of the jury were given the case late Friday.

So far, they have spent only little more than 12 hours in the cheerless little jury room.

Soon after starting deliberations they asked to be read more than 400 pages of testimony—much of woman.

if dealing with the doctor's own story of what happened the night his wife, Barbara Jean, 36, was shot to death last July 1.

The state says she was murdered. Dr. Finch says a pistol discharged accidentally, fatally wounding her, as he tried to throw it away.

The reading was completed Tuesday and the jury spent more than three hours in the bare-walled room, seated in hard wooden chairs at a bare, end-to-end pair of tables.

Woodson Files a New Appeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Luther Bailey, 47-year-old Woodson Negro, has filed a new appeal in U. S. District Court in an attempt to escape the electric chair for a rape conviction.

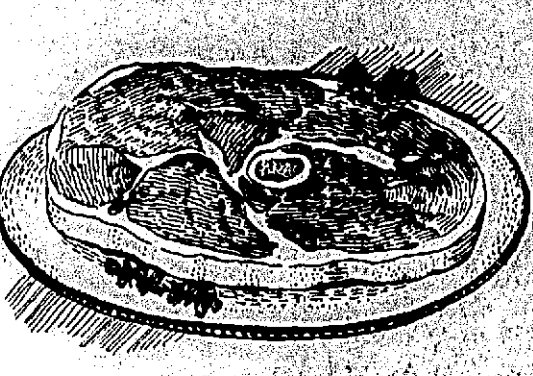

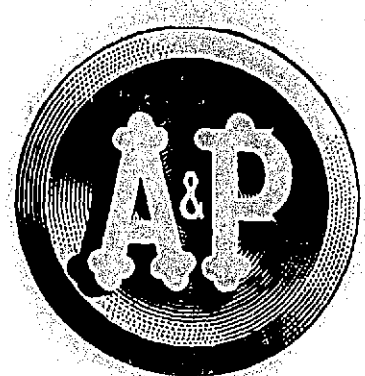

Bailey yesterday asked the court to set aside his 1936 conviction on grounds that Negroes were systematically excluded from the jury panel named to hear his case.

The case was assigned to District Judge Gordon Young.

Bailey has carried three appeals to the U. S. Supreme Court without success. The question of Negroes on the jury has not been specifically raised before.

Bailey was convicted in the rape of a 49-year-old Little Rock white woman.

THE STORY: Phil bokker learns that Fletcher Trow, allegedly one of Quantrell's guerrillas during the Civil War, is a marshal of Pawnee City, Kan. Bokker wants to talk to the man who might clear Bokker of charges that he took part in the Lawrence raid.

CHAPTER XVI

Fletcher Trow sat in a straight-backed chair, tilted back against the wall. He was a lean man of about 31. There was a sardonic droop to the right side of his mouth.

"Throw?" Bokker asked abruptly as he entered.

Trow pushed back his flat-crowned Stetson, but showed no unusual interest. "You'll be Phil Bokker?"

Bokker's eyes narrowed. "You know me?" he pecked you. Trow made a slight gesture. "I had a letter."

"From Raytown?"

"I don't rightly remember."

"I don't imagine, then, that I'm going to get much information from you."

"Depends on what information you want. I'm a public official of Pawnee City. Anything you want to know about the town I'll tell you. I'll be glad to explain our laws to you."

Bokker said, carefully, "Do the people in this town know your name with Quantrell?"

"Quantrell Who's he?"

"Yesterday," Bokker told Fletcher Trow icily, "I talked to a man from Lawrence. Six years ago he was hiding under the sidewalk, across from the Eldridge House. He can identify you."

The marshal brought the front legs of his chair down to the floor and got to his feet. "Ever heard of the word amnesty?"

"Every man who committed a crime during the war hides behind that word," Bokker said angrily. "But Kansas was a Union state. They still don't like guerrillas. How'd you ever become marshal?"

"The job was open and the mayor offered it to me. He thought I had the qualifications. I'm fairly handy with a gun."

"You've had enough practice?"

Trow wagged a forefinger at Bokker. "Let's don't get personal, Bokker. There's no United States Army here to back you up. Just the local law, that's all. And that's me."

The street door opened and Tom Chaffee came in.

"— and my deputy, Tom Chaffee," Trow added.

"He had a little trouble down at the hotel, marshal," Chaffee forced. "I could have brought him in."

"Never mind, Tom. Mr. Bokker thinks he knows me from the war. Thinks I was with him and Quantrell."

Bokker exclaimed, "I wasn't with Quantrell!"

State Hospital Escaper Caught

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert L. Tipton was arrested in Benton yesterday, two days after he walked away from the State Hospital in Little Rock.

An extradition hearing had been planned for Monday. Tipton is wanted by Texas authorities. He is charged with stealing $700 from a Flower Grove, Tex., high school where he once taught.

Trow shrugged. "If you say so, Bokker. You see how those things get around. People even say I was with Quantrell."

"You were."

"Like I was saying, Bokker."

Trow continued, "everybody was in the war and everybody talks about it. You can't tell the truth any more. Privates make themselves captains, captains generals. Why, a fellow told me only the other day he won the battle of Gettysburg. Man from Georgia takes a trip up north and everybody calls him a bushwhacker. They say the same thing about Sherman's boys down in Georgia. Just talk. Don't mean a thing. People say you rode with Quantrell. They say the same thing about me. And Tom Chaffee."

"Not me," said Chaffee. "I wore a regular blue uniform."

"And maybe I wore a gray. What's the difference. The war's over. Forget it."

"I can't," said Bokker. "People won't let me. My picture appeared in a magazine."

"So did mine."

"But you were there and I wasn't. There's a difference."

"Some fellows over in Clay County rode with Quantrell. So they tell me, anyway. Well, they became outlaws. I became a marshal."

"Take that marshal's badge," Bokker said, "put it on the outside of your coat and ride into Lawrence. See what'll happen."

"Nothing will happen. Because I'm not going to Lawrence," Trow said calmly. "I've got no business there."

"We've got business here," interposed Tom Chaffee. "Enough to keep us going day and night. Keepin' Texas from takin' over Pawnee City."

The marshal nodded agreement. "And it's about time we started making the rounds." He adjusted the holster that held a long-barreled Navy revolver. "Care to come along, Bokker?"

He walked back to the hotel, but had no desire to go back into the saloon. He climbed to the second floor. He noted the absence of a chink of light under the door of Ruth Compton's room and went to the room he was to share with Paul Shay.

Bokker undressed and went to bed. But he could not sleep. There was far too much on his mind, too much noise came through the thin flooring which separated the sleeping rooms from the saloon below. But after a long time, Bokker dozed off. Then he was awakened again, by a louder than usual commotion in the saloon.

It was quieted after a while and he was barely asleep when Paul Shay came in with a lighted candle.

Bokker kept his eyes closed and Shay muttered and stumbled about the room. Finally Shay crowded into the bed with Bokker and the latter was assailed by the whiskey fumes from Shay's breath. Finally Bokker slept.

Planned Talk of L. R. Is Protested

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg said yesterday a protest by three women against a speech he plans to make in Little Rock, Ark., Friday is nothing new.

Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches, said the protest was just another in a series of incidents which included charges in a military manual that some church leaders were Communists.

Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. Ann Bishop and Mrs. Emily McCray complained yesterday to Paul E. Martin, Methodist bishop of Arkansas, that Dahlberg should not have been invited to speak in Little Rock because of his connections with alleged subversive organizations.

They did not charge Dahlberg with being a Communist, but Mrs. Morrison said "Any man is naive who belongs to 21 groups which have been cited as front organizations."

Dahlberg is scheduled to address a public meeting at the Little Rock First Methodist Church Friday night. The speech is sponsored by the Arkansas Council of Churches. Bishop Martin said he had confidence in Dahlberg and believed him to be a "loyal American and a Christian."

Dahlberg said, "The National Council of Churches is determined to track down all the recent anti-church propaganda and to expose the truth or falsity of all the allegations."

Larger and Larger

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Gerald E. Salsberry family, already a household, is going to grow larger in court today.

Salsberry and his wife are adopting their ninth child — Danny, 7 months, a blue-eyed blond of Irish-Italian-American Indian ancestry.

Mrs. Salsberry said all the children will be in court.

"I told them there was nothing to see," she said, "but they love Danny so, I guess they didn't want to miss anything."

The other children range from Joyce, 11, to Mark, 9 months. Two, Ronald, 7, and Steven, 5, are Koreans.

The family lives in suburban El Cajon.

Old Stars Honored

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A monument honoring eight early day movie stars was unveiled Tuesday.

The eight helped fight Los Angeles' 1922 attempt to annex Beverly Hills.

Three surviving stars — Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd and Conrad Nagel — helped dedicate the $30,000 monument, which also honors the late Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Tom Mix, Rudolph Valentino, Will Rogers and Fred Niblo.

Two Palaces Strafed in Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A jet fighter strafed two of President Sukarno's palaces and a fishing village today, wounding 19 persons.

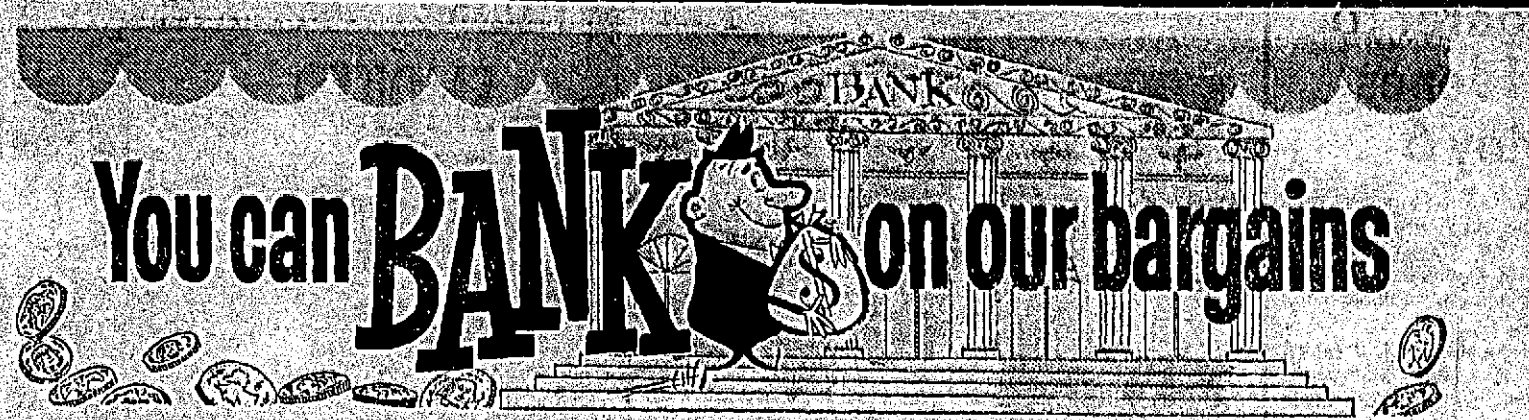

Officials blamed a disgruntled Indonesian air force pilot, a second lieutenant whose father was arrested a few weeks ago for illegal possession of arms.

President Sukarno's Merdeka (Freedom) Palace in downtown Jakarta was the first target. The jet, identified by Radio Jakarta as a MIG17, dived low and sprayed the palace with machine-gun bullets. Three persons within the palace and a painter working outside were wounded, Radio Jakarta announced.

Sukarno and his five children, however, escaped injury. The children were in the palace as the bullets cut several holes in the roof and walls. Sukarno was presiding over a meeting of the Supreme Advisory Council in an adjacent building.

The lieutenant took off from Kemajoran airfield here. After firing on Merdeka Palace he headed his jet 35 miles south of Jakarta to Bogor, where he strafed the Bogor Palace.

Finally, he flew to the fishing village of Tjilintjint, 10 miles northeast of Jakarta, and sprayed bullets there. Fifteen persons were wounded.
